

Connor Hanwick – Producer/Writer/Engineer

Diving into the world of music production as with the success of indie pop band The Drums, Connor Hanwick has taken his experience co-writing and producing international hit albums, “The Drums” (Island/Downtown) and “Portamento” (Island/Frenchkiss) to working on an array of projects with artists ranging from Edwyn Collins to new favorites Spires and Donovan Blanc. Working out of his newly built studio in Brooklyn with his finger on the pulse, Hanwick's musical versatility and cultivated professionalism has translated tremendously behind the board.
